

Making economic choices is hard. Think about your family's needs and wants. How would you spend your family's money? Decide which items are the most important. Place these cards on your desk from top to bottom. The top card should be most important. Explain your choices to your partner. Now it's your partner's turn.

candy

electricity

telephone

health
care

computer

transportation

water

CLOTHING

toys

vacation

FOOD

television