

Ms. Winston's Weekly News

September 26-30, 2011

What We're Learning

Math- We have begun reviewing bar graphs and will finish up with picture graphs this week. Please see your child's binder for graphing notes (sheets will be added as we complete them.)

Social Studies- Our next unit is on Map Skills, this will take us through the end of the quarter. Please see your child's binder for map skill study guides.

Science- Students are continuing to learn about the Scientific Method. Please have your child review their Science Flip Book nightly.

Writing- Wednesday is Early Release for students. We will have an extended writing block on this day, this will allow me to confer with students about their writings and goals for the year.

Reading- This week we will begin our unit on Nonfiction Text Features as well as begin to respond to literature in our journals.

Important Dates

September 28th - Early Release at 12:45pm; Young Science Money Due $30 now or $15 now and in January.

September 30th - Young Science In School Workshop

Teacher Notes

*I will email a weekly newsletter every Friday with classroom news. Students will still be responsible for writing down homework and reminders in their agendas.

*Thank you to all the parents who came to back to school night, please do not hesitate to email me with any additional questions.
